

Is there a supernatural dimension, a world beyond the one we know? Is there life after death? Do angels exist? Can our dreams contain messages from Heaven? Can we tap into ancient secrets of the supernatural? Are healing miracles real? Sid Roth has spent over 35 years researching the strange world of the supernatural. Join Sid for this edition of It's Supernatural.

SID: Hello. Sid Roth here. Welcome to my world where it's naturally supernatural. My guest has laser accuracy in her prophetic work. This woman has the most outrageous miracles that you have ever, ever heard of. Are you ready to hear from her? Now I love it. You not only prophesy, but she raps when she prophecies. Now I happen to be a real fan of Prime Minister Netanyahu and I, therefore, I know his family name, nickname is Bibi. You didn't have a clue.

CLARICE: Not a clue.

SID: You didn't know any of this.

CLARICE: 1984.

SID: Was way before.

CLARICE: Way before.

SID: So could you rap that prophecy right now.

CLARICE: If you ask I certainly will.

SID: Thank you.

CLARICE: It was a rainy night in September and I remember it well because we were singing a song in church and suddenly I began to tell that God said, "The Almighty had a little Bibi that was a man with a plan in the midst the land." And he said, "Now is the time as never before, he'll be like David and he knows what's in store. And his cry will be night and day. You cannot have the land, you cannot take it away. I have a little Bibi, and he has in store more powerful than a nuclear war head, because this little man will do what God said."

SID: I'm going to tell you, you have to tell me, who in the world did you think Bibi was?

CLARICE: I had no idea what it was. I knew the comparison was David had five smooth stones to take Goliath's head. It was an unlikely match. But I believe it was the word of David's mouth that took the head, the authority of Goliath before the rock hit. And I believe that there are those men and women that have the faith of God working in their lives and when they begin to say, no, you cannot do this, what's backing them up is all of Heaven. So we look at unlikely candidates and we see, don't look at their natural ability, look at the supernatural ability, and if God can take a little Bibi and beat up a nuclear warhead that impresses me.

SID: It does me, too. Okay. You're five years of age. Your dad's off to war. Your mother is in another town working. You're living with your grandparents and unfortunately you're home alone a lot. But you had a mysterious visitor.

CLARICE: Well you know, this is such a wonderful story because during time of war things are very, very uncomfortable. And of course, Dad was at war and like you said, Mother was working and I was with my grandparents. And in the morning they gave me a little fruit jar of water and some peanut butter, and they would say, "Now you play outside." And from the age of five I would go outside, sit under a gumball tree and I had fun. It was just all, there were no toys, there were no people, there was no interaction. And my grandmother never smiled. She just never smiled and my grandfather came in and he said, "Ruth," he said, "The rodeo is in town." And I saw her smile, and I thought, I don't know what a rodeo is, but if it makes this old lady smile this is the most amazing thing I've ever seen. So the next day I'm out playing under my gumball tree and I'm dirty, and I'm making things with mud, and I hear music. I had never heard music before, never. We didn't have a radio, didn't have TV, nothing like that. And I heard music, and to my little mind it must be the rodeo, something about the rodeo. And suddenly this guy opened, a golden staircase came down, we were on the Washita River. My grandfather was a commercial fisherman and we lived on the water. It was a very dangerous place. And I saw this man come down this staircase, walked on top of the water, walked over to where I was. My grandmother had said, "Do not talk to strangers." Well this is the strangest stranger I had ever seen. And the only thing I had to fashion this with my mind was he was with the rodeo. So he came up to me and he looked at me, and I'm nasty, and I'm dirty, and I'm forsaken, and it's sad, and no one to tell you what to do or to train you. And he says, "What are you doing?" And I said, "I'm making stuff out of dirt." And he says, "I've done that before." And I said, "Hey Mister, are you with the rodeo?" And he says, "I'm here for a roundup." And I said, "How did you come down those stairs?" And he said, "You see that stair?" He said, "Someday you will bring millions of people up this staircase." And he said, I said, "Well what's your name? What am I gonna call you?" And he says, "I'm your friend and you'll never be lonely again." Now that was 70 years ago and I've been a happy, clappy person since then.

SID: Well I don't blame you. But okay, I'm going to fast forward. You're married. You have a three-year-old daughter and tragedy of tragedies, she cuts her finger off.

CLARICE: We were at my mother and father's home and we had five children, and when you have five children there's always somebody's hollering. Somebody's got something. And I heard this scream and there is a scream that a mother hears, I believe, that alerts everything in you. And we ran in, and Kathy was, she was three years old. She was laying on the floor. Blood was everywhere. We didn't know where it was coming from. And so my child is laying there and she's bleeding, and my husband gets, he took a rag, and we realized it was her finger, and her finger was gone. And he says, "I'm going to the hospital." He says, "Call the hospital ahead of time," where they have emergency rooms ready to go at any time. I got in the car and Kathy is chewing gum and looking out the window, and she's not crying, but George is crying. And I said, "What's going on?" And he says, "I just prayed and I asked God, you know, God, just take away the pain. I'll do anything. I'll serve you all the days of my life." He says, "You've got to say that, too." I said, "I'm not saying that." And he said, "You've got to say it." I said, "No, I don't have to say it." And he says, "Clarice," he says, "What do you want?" And I said, "I want a new finger. I want a new fingernail and I want a new thumb. I just want to get, if this is a God of miracles, that's what I know. I want to know a supernatural God. He said, “You can’t make a deal with God.” I said, “Just made a deal.” And so we got to the hospital. The doctor comes in and he says, “Where’s the finger?” Well it never occurred to us to get the finger. So I called my dad and I said, “Did you find Kathy’s little finger?” He said, “Oh honey,” he says, “It was in the door.” And he says, “I took it and put it in a trash can.” I said, it had coffee grounds and cabbage leaves and everything, I said, “Get it and put it in ice and bring it to the hospital.” Well by the time he got there the doctor says. “It’s too late. You can’t sew it on.” I’m telling you something came over me, and I said, “You sew that finger on.” He says, “I’m not gonna sew it on.” I said, “Yes, you’re gonna sew it on.” And he says, “If she moves,” he says, “I’m not gonna do it. I’m not gonna give her any anesthetic.” He says, oh he gave me all the reasons. And I said, “Kathy, this man is going to sew your finger on. Don’t cry.” And she looked up at her daddy, and she said, “Daddy, you got the prettiest eyes.” And she went to sleep, and never moved, and the doctor sewed the finger on. Three days later we’re taking a bath. The doctors had said, “It’s black. There’s no blood. It can’t possibly take.” And my mother-in-law was given her a shower, and the phone rang, and she left. And she said, “Kathy, don’t get your little hand wet.” Now you tell a three-year-old that, you know, they don’t quite grasp it. And she goes, and when she comes back, Kathy’s tub is full and she’s swimming all over the place, and the bandage is floating in the tub. And my mother-in-law picked up the bandage, and there was Kathy’s finger. And she says, “Oh honey, your little finger came off.” And she said, “It’s all right, Grandmother. I got a new one, new bone, new finger, new fingernail.”

SID: Now that is, that’s normal according as defined by the Bible. So you are one sick young woman.

CLARICE: Yes.

SID: She was so sick and she heard there was a woman coming to town by the name of Kathryn Kuhlman. So she went to that service. You’re sitting in the back there. But she has what’s known as a word of knowledge and you know she’s talking to you. What was wrong with you, by the way?

CLARICE: Well I had tuberculosis and I had asthma, and I had allergies, and I was just sick, 13 years, I had to just sleep sitting up because I couldn’t breathe. So it was a serious thing. She comes out and she was so unique, and she said, “You’ve been waiting long.” And I thought, yeah, about 30 years. The, but she came out there and she’s talking to me, and she said, “Dear, Jesus,” and she had these long sleeves with bracelets on. She said, “There’s a woman there and she’s sick. She’s very, very sick.” And when she said that my whole body starts shaking. And I’m sitting there trying to look as, like a bump on a log, because I saw people fall down when she prayed for them. I didn’t know what that meant. It terrified me. I wasn’t about to go up there. And so I’m sitting back there, and I’m about to miss my healing, and this woman named Maggie that would walk around.

SID: I knew Maggie.

CLARICE: I knew Maggie. Maggie walked up to me and she said, “You are experiencing a healing.” I said, “There’s nothing wrong with me. I’m not sick.” On top of being sick I was a liar, I mean. So I said, Kathryn, that’s when she stopped, pointed her finger and she says, “Oh this woman is so stubborn. She’ll need a sign.” It was like the top of my head opened up and I had the St. Vitus Dance. I was shaking all over. And I said, Maggie looked at me and she says, “Now will you go up and confess your healing.” “Yes, ma’am!” And so I’m going up there and Kathryn stops, and people, we had about 3000 people in the auditorium at that time. And she just walked up, and she put both hands, and she says, “Oh such as I have I give it to you.” And I thought, well wonder what that means. And immediately I was thrown across, some invisible force picked me up, threw me 15 feet across the room, and I landed under Dino’s piano, and it was the sweetest place I had ever been. And immediately my life changed. Immediately.

SID: What happened to all these physical conditions?

CLARICE: They were gone. I was instantly healed. That was in 1971 and it’s never come back.

SID: Okay. But here is the amazing thing. She got more than a healing. Guess what happened? She goes into an elevator. Now remember, she knows nothing about being overcome by the Spirit or it’s called slain in the Spirit. She knows nothing about this, but it happened to her. So she’s in an elevator, right, shortly thereafter. What happened?

CLARICE: Well they had about ten people in the elevator and we were going, and when I stepped in all ten of them fell to the floor, and I didn’t know what that was. I thought eventually I’m going to have to have shields made for my hands. If I bumped into anybody they fell out. What’s this all about? And so I decided to take the stairs, and we had about 20 people fall down the stairs when I would just pass by. That lasted for six weeks. I didn’t know what to do with it.

SID: I’m sure. Okay. But you know, you have the most ridiculous miracles.

CLARICE: Ridiculous. Ridiculous.

SID: I don’t where, but in your own home, tell me about what happened to your son Trey.

CLARICE: Well Trey was 12 years old. My one boy and four girls. And he was a bit mischievous. He had red hair and the personality to go with it. So I was going some place and I said, “Honey, don’t leave the house today. I’ll be back at noon.” And of course, I guess he forgot that I said that, and he went out, and there was a container that somebody had thrown battery acid away, and he didn’t know what was in. You know, boys, guys got to kick. And he kicks this thing down for about two blocks and then he decided to open it, and it exploded. Well acid when it burns you, it burns you like a million ice picks on you, you know. And to get relief it burned him in his face, on his chest and on his arms. And he dove into a ditch nearby. And of course, what he was doing was pressing mud into all those holes, which is a terrible thing to do. I’m sure it was an angel that picked him up, physically picked him up, put him, ran him two blocks to home, and my daughter Deborah and Rebecca were there. And he says, “Get the boy to the hospital.” Now I’m not home. George is out ministering. I’m out ministering, and my 17 and 18 year old daughters are there, taking care of this 12-year-old boy that is resistant. And they take him to the hospital, and the doctor looks at him and says, “He’s got second and third degree burns. He’s left blind. There’s no way we can clean these wounds because if it tears his skin apart,” I mean, the diagnosis was terrible. And they couldn’t find me. And so they called my mother-in-law. And my mother-in-law is an incredible woman. I mean, she doesn’t know what no meant. She went to the hospital and she said, “Can you do anything for him?” They said, “All we can do is wait.” She said, “I got a better doctor. You got Dr. Man, I got Dr.

Jesus.” And she got in, picked him up, brought him home. And he came in. I came in. I heard what was going on, and I said, “Honey, let me explain something to you. If you don’t understand, if you can’t hear my voice, if you don’t understand authority, you open the door for demonic attacks upon your life.” And I said, “You confess that what you did was wrong. I will forgive you and make intercession, and God will heal you.” He said, “I was wrong and shouldn’t have done it,” which he immediately responded. And faith cometh by hearing, and I had a teaching from a woman that had been born helplessly deformed and God appeared her, Betty Baxter. You may have heard this story. My son listened to it and he says, “Do you believe that’s true?” And I said yes. He’s 12 years old. He said, “If God will do it for that woman he’ll do it for me.” And he got up with second and third degree burns on his face, on his chest, on his arms, skin hanging, undid himself, and went and got in the bathtub, and came back in 15 minutes. There was not a mark on his body.

SID: Now this has to be one of the most amazing stories I have ever heard. Clarice Fluitt bumps into someone called The God Maker. I want to hear that story when we come back.

SID: My problem is there’s so many amazing stories and teachings that you have, Clarice. But one of my favorite stories is The God Maker. Tell me about that.

CLARICE: I was in Malaysia doing a series of meetings with the late great Daisy Osborn. And we had one day off, and we went to the oldest town in Asia called Malacca. And when we were there they were having a great celebration similar to what would be Mardi Gras. And we got into the town, cobblestone, very narrow street. There was no way to get out. There was no room to go in, no way to go forward, no way to go back. And where we were, in all of Asia they have what they call god houses and each one of these gods, it would be like a little mailbox. But to appease the multiple gods that are there, they’d leave fruit and candy, and cakes, all that.

SID: Right.

CLARICE: And they have to burn these papers continuously. So The god maker in all of Asia is in Malacca and he was one that made all the houses and had made all the papers, and so that’s all, that was a big deal. And we stopped there, and I asked my host, I said, “Can I go in?” They said, “No, that’s the god maker’s place. You can’t go in there.” And I said, “I want to go in.” And so I went in. The little god maker was about 85 years old. It just happened that day is his birthday and he had a big celebration, had long fingernails and a long beard, typical Asian gentleman.

SID: I can picture that.

CLARICE: Yeah, I mean, he was just so cute. And he wanted to know what I was. Now I didn't speak his language and he didn't speak mine. But I was walking all over, and I put my hands up like this, and he wanted to know what I was doing. And they said, "She's blessing your papers." And actually what I was doing is every time you burn this thing I release the revelation, ascension and adoption of Jesus Christ. And you know, I just—

SID: He didn't know what you prayed.

CLARICE: And he was excited about me praying over his papers, and I was excited over praying over it. And so he invites me through this interpreter to come to the hotel, since I have no place to go, and come to this beautiful 14-course Asian dinner, and it was his birthday. And I said, "I'd love to come." So we get there and his wife is blind and she has diabetes. And so the grandson comes to me and says, "Can your God heal my grandmother?" I said, "Of course. No problem at all." And he said, "Really?" And I said, "Oh absolutely. I mean, don't even think about it." And I figured I'm too far out here to get back. I mean, you know, Sid, it's now or nothing, and act like you know what you're doing.

SID: You told me something I've heard before. Faith is spelled R-I-S-K.

CLARICE: Risk.

SID: She's doing it.

CLARICE: So I said to the god maker, in front of all of his heirs, and he was one of the richest men in all of Asia, I said, "The only catch to this is that when God restores your wife's eyesight, will you renounce all the other gods?" And I mean, it was like when E. F. Hutton speaks. And he looks at his wife, and he looks at his grandkids, and his whole life is there, and he's holding his little wife's face, and they're talking. I can't understand what they're saying. And then he turned to me. He says, "If your God will open her eyes and she can see, I will renounce all the false gods."

SID: Wow.

CLARICE: And I said, "Nothing to it." And I turned around and laid hands on her eyes.

SID: You are one risk taker, let me tell you.

CLARICE: I don't have any reputation to lose, you know. So here we are. Somebody's going to have to act like they believe the Word of God.

SID: Okay. So you put hands on her face.

CLARICE: I put hands on her and I said, "I release vision to you." I took my hands down and he's looking at her and he goes, [gibberish]. And then he's looking at, and he said, [gibberish]. And she's feeling his face, and he's crying, and she's crying. Everybody in the room is crying. She could see. God opened her eyes.

SID: Tell me, tell me one of your, I mean, you have been walking in the supernatural for 40 years. Tell me one of your favorite keys, if you will.

CLARICE: To walk in the realm of the supernatural, believing God, to believe God, we prophesy, we move by faith, all that we do, we do according to the faith of God that is in our heart. Now you have two kinds of faith. You have a fruit. You have a gift. Gifts are given, fruit is grown. Proximity is a very important thing. You need to get in touch with people who are moving in the realm of the supernatural. When I received the baptism of the Holy Spirit, like I told you earlier, there had been a premium on ignorance I had in a war. I didn't know what I was doing, so I had no limitations. And so I found out that the desire, when God puts a desire in your heart, like I had a desire to prophesy. And what stirred that desire was that I read in the Bible that he who prophesies is more valuable to the Kingdom of God than he that just speaks in an unknown tongue. Now the least of the gifts will open the door for all the gifts to move into our life. So when I wanted to know how to prophesy I had to look around and find somebody that was doing it. And I went to this lady and I said to her, I said, "I really want to prophesy." And she smiled at me with that all-knowing smile. She says, "Now why would you want to do that?" And I said, "Because the Bible says, 'He who prophesies.'" "It's he, honey, not she." And I thought, oh my goodness, this is not for women. And she says, "No, this is for your husband." And I said, "What about women that don't have a husband." "No, it's just for women that got a husband." And she was as sincere as she can be. Many people are sincere, they're just sincerely wrong.

SID: Right.

CLARICE: And so I said, okay, and it was all right with me if that's what God wanted. I didn't have any fault with that. And so I said, "Thank you very much." And I turned around. "And the Word of the Lord will come unto you for you have been formed by him and correctly, for in Christ there is neither male nor female, and the Word of God will bubble forth, and [gibberish]."

SID: Where did that come from?

CLARICE: Behold the Tabernacle of God is with the redeemed. Just open up and let him out. God is looking for somebody to agree with him.

SID: So what did she say?

CLARICE: She was astounded. But then since then, of course that was 45 years ago, since then, they have seen God do these incredible these things with the prophetic voice of God that heals the wounded Body of Christ.

SID: Would you use that prophetic voice and pray for people right now.

CLARICE: Father, in the authority of the wonderful name of Jesus, the name that is above everything that's got a name, I take dominion and power, and authority over, in God's name, plans, schemes, thoughts and ideas that the evil one has. Devil, I will remind your right now, you think you're the prince of the airwaves. I tell you, the King of Glory has certainly defeated you. You're old, you're ugly, you'll never know the love of God. You'll never know anything about a glorified body. And we decree it, proclaim it and establish it. And those that are within the hearing of my voice, I loose the vibrations of Heaven and the frequency of life. I take authority over unbelief and everything that does not align itself with the infallible inherent awesome Word of God, I prophesy to it, I decree to it, I declare to you, you have no power. I arrest you in the name that is above everything, the name of Jesus. Now may the ministering spirit sent forth from God to aid us with the heirs of salvation, you mighty angelic beings, go and arrest the trespassers and release the joy of the Lord.

SID: I'll tell you what, the devil must be nervous when this woman starts speaking a prophetic word, and I'm going to give you a prophetic word. Jesus is returning soon and if you confess your sins his blood is more than enough to wash it away. Ask him to live inside of you, become your Lord and you will experience your destiny, your purpose and peace, and love. Do it now.

SID: Next week on It's Supernatural. My guest found himself in the Spirit supernaturally in the White House for eight hours observing what is going on. Do I dare let him tell you what is going on? Are you interested?
